Food Bank Urges Fans to Host SOUPER BOWL Parties

Community Urged to Collect and Donate During Game

RALEIGH – Football fans have one more stand off to endure in February. The Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina is challenging communities in its 34-county service area to show TEAM SPIRIT and COMMUNITY SPIRIT by collecting or donating at parties this year during Super Bowl XLII on Sunday, February 3rd. Whether you are a New England Patriots fan or a New York Giants fan, everyone wins in the Food Bank's S-O-U-P-E-R BOWL!

Fight hunger in your community by collecting or bringing cans of food to a Super Bowl Party or by making an Online Virtual Food Drive Donation.

"The need is constant. Food collected during major food drives go right back out the door to feed those at risk of hunger," said Peter Werbicki, President/CEO of the Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina. "Our Souper Bowl is a way to have a party with a specific focus and to keep the community engaged in our mission to provide food resources throughout the year."

Go to the Food Bank's Web site at www.foodbankcenc.org to participate in the Souper Bowl virtual food drive or collect non-perishable food items at your party, or both.

About the Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina

*The Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina is a nonprofit organization that provides food for people who are hungry in 34 counties in central and eastern North Carolina. The Food Bank serves a network of more than 870 partner agencies offering soup kitchens, food pantries, shelters, and programs for children and adults. In fiscal year 2006 - 2007, the Food Bank distributed more than 32.6 million pounds of food and non-food essentials to these agencies. Sadly, hunger remains a serious problem in central and eastern North Carolina. In these counties, more than 400,000 struggle each day to provide enough food for their families.
